

Q&A Questions Answers

What's happening? We are a part of the Georgia Download Destination (GADD) — a consortium of Georgia libraries that joined together over a decade ago to share the cost and resources of an eAudiobooks and eBook collection. The consortium has decided to go with another vendor, Rbdigital.

Why? Rbdigital offers us more. GADD users will have access to the Recorded Books proprietary catalog featuring thousands of exclusive titles in addition to the titles being transferred over from OverDrive. Rbdigital offers the added advantage of free access to a large collection of digital magazines, including Aviation Week, Better Homes & Gardens, and Kiplinger.

When? GADD will start using the Rbdigital app on February 6th. The OverDrive app will stop working for GADD users on this date.

What will happen to my holds and wishlist? GADD paused the option to place holds in OverDrive in early January. You may start placing holds on items in Rbdigital beginning February 6th. You may also want to make a printed copy of your wishlist in OverDrive now so you can recreate it in Rbdigital.

What devices are compatible with Rbdigital? Apple and Android devices, Mac and Windows computers, and Kindle Fire and Nook tablets. Unfortunately at this time, dedicated eReaders such as Nook Simple Touch and Kindle Paperwhite are not compatible with Rbdigital.
